To Whom It May Concern,

My husband and I decided to build our dream cabin in the Duck Creek area. We went in search for a builder. We were looking for a contractor who would be able to show us cabins that they had built, someone who would build our cabin to our specifications, someone we could trust and feel comfortable with. We found all of those things with TG DeMille.

Greg and Marty took the time to sit with us to go over our cabin specifications, to work out all the numbers so we could stay within our budget and gave us a step-by-step plan of how the construction would go. During the construction we asked many questions, requested changes and added items. Greg was very accommodating to our requests and got the job done.

The detailed work that Greg put into our cabin left us very impressed. A great example of the type of detail work I am speaking of would be the aspen log stair rails and decorative log posts which can be added inside or outside the cabin. We really liked the idea of the amount of tongue and groove walls that were offered instead of drywall. We wanted our cabin to look and feel like a cabin but with updated amenities.

If you are looking to have your dream cabin built, we highly recommend that you consider TG DeMille for your cabin construction. We are very happy with our choice and our family will enjoy our new cabin for a very long time.

Happy Cabin Owners,

Mike and Angela Lathan
